From 5/15/22: "...There were some older crowns below a cornice to the north of mt fox (second photo) with slide debris that extended down the whole face (600ft). Likely slid during a storm within the last week." Photo: C. Chupik

Advisory Region
Cooke City
Longitude
-109.93W

Latitude
45.12N
Avalanche Details: Natural wind slabs and wet slide, Cooke and Blackmore 5/13-5/15
Cooke City, 2022-05-18