

Wet slide debris

Wet avalanches ran naturally last week during above freezing temperatures and sunshine after the last storm.

Slides like this will be possible when the snowpack softens in the afternoon and will become more likely if the snowpack doesn't freeze overnight. Wet slides can run long distance and carry a lot of force. Photo: B. VandenBos