

Instability near Lulu Pass

A layer of facets that formed in early December is breaking clean in stability tests (ECTP22) about 1.5 feet under the surface. Wind-loading or more snow will make this layer more reactive. Photo: GNFAC

Advisory Region

Cooke City

Longitude

-109.95W

Latitude

45.07N

Cooke City, 2018-12-26