HS240

Layer No 170-173:

Slope Angle: 24° Precipitation: NO Wind Loading: Wind: Calm

Notes: Sort of ridiculous how little that snow has settled.! Did note though, that the ridgeline just above the pit location was dramatic (from west winds), which probably had something to do with the XL natural avalanche on the nearby Fin. (Also checked my notes reported widespread surface hoar in this area. Could be the culprit).
