

Slopes loaded by west-southwest winds are the main avalanche concern. Cornices and natural avalanches are bull's eye information slopes are wind loaded and unstable. Watch for and carefully assess all slopes with wind drifted snow. This photo was taken in the northern Madison Range. Photo B VandenBos

Advisory Region
Northern Madison
Northern Madison, 2018-11-27