

From BSSP on 2/17/24: "Midafternoon we received another report of a skier triggered avalanche in the Lone Lake Circe, specifically The Mullet. The reporting party contacted several ski patrollers via cell phone and confirmed that nobody was injured or had taken the full ride. This avalanche failed near the ground on a high elevation NW facing slope with the weight of a single skier with an estimated size of HS-ASu-R3-D2.5-O."

Advisory Region
Northern Madison
Longitude

-111.46W

Latitude

45.28N

Avalanche Details: Skier triggered avalanche in Mullet near Big Sky

Northern Madison, 2024-02-18