

Mark Staples checked out the weather station today which has been broken since it got hit with 100 mph winds over a month ago. It'll require another trip later in the season to repair. Situated at a little over 10,000 feet near Flanders peak we got a great view of the surrounding mountains. The Bridger Range is in the far distance.
Photo: GNFAC

Advisory Region
Northern Gallatin
Northern Gallatin, 2011-12-06