

Loose, wet avalanches like these are signs the surface snow is getting wet and losing strength. This east facing slope had not had freezing temperatures the last three days. Photo: J. Jacobs

Advisory Region
Bridger Range
Bridger Range, 2013-04-05