

Cracking in the snowpack

"...the snowpack was talkative today. Tons of energetic rolling collapses that shook snow out of the trees 50 feet away, and shot powder up around aspens in a Colorado-esque way. Shooting cracks on low-angle test slopes, and isolated small natural slides on steeper, W-facing terrain." Photo: D. Pogge

Advisory Region
Southern Gallatin

Longitude

-110.96W

Latitude

45.04N

Avalanche Details: Cracking and small natural slides in S. Gallatin

Southern Gallatin, 2021-01-06