

Layers breaking in Snowpit at Lionhead

Dave Zinn of the GNFAC gets 3 layers breaking in his Extended Column Test. About 3 feet of snow fell in the last 4 days which got blown into wind slabs. The weight of the new snow is also creating instability on a weak layer of sugary facets near the ground. Photo: GNFAC

Advisory Region
Lionhead Range
Longitude

-111.29W

Latitude

44.70N

Lionhead Range, 2021-12-26